

MANY GERMAN TANKS CAPTURED BY THE AMERICAN TROOPS

Vesle River banks into swamps and morasses, and they are making a stiffer stand here than was anticipated.

French detachments which crossed the Vesle are meeting with resistance from the Germans, says the official statement from the War Office to-day.

1,500,000 SHELLS FOR 77'S TAKEN.

Each day adds to the booty captured by the Allies. It will be impossible to take full stock for some time, but the booty includes a considerable number of 77-millimeter guns, many of which were found in the depths of the woods of Arcy and Tournelle and the Forest of Fere. The number of 77-millimeter shells salvaged up to the present totals 1,500,000.

Allied troops hold the entire southern bank of the Vesle between Fismes and Rheims. Stubborn resistance was made by Prussian and Bavarian Guards between Muizon and Champigny, but they were forced back, suffering heavy losses. Both banks of the Vesle now are under heavy artillery fire from the opposing armies.

The Germans, it is believed, will try to stop at an intermediate position between the Vesle and the Aisne, but probably they will not attempt a definite halt before the Aisne is reached.

GERMANS ALSO RETREAT IN PICARDY.

The German flight is not confined to the Aisne front. In Picardy the Germans have evacuated a front of twelve miles to a depth of two miles, and the British, in close pursuit, have followed them across the Ancre both above and below Albert, from near Beaumont and Hamel to Dernancourt, on the Somme front. The surrender of Hamel marks the giving up of a town which cost the German high command an even 100,000 lives in the great offensive against the British.

Explosions heard in Albert indicate that the enemy is destroying that town before continuing his flight.

The German retreat on this sector is taken to indicate an abandonment of any plan to have the Bavarian Crown Prince renew his efforts to take the French Channel ports from the British.

On the Avre, too, the Germans have fled, between Montdidier and Moreuil, on a front of approximately ten miles, giving up to the French the heights on the west bank of the river.

The Associated Press correspondent with the American Armies wires that from various villages recovered by the Allies come reports that thousands of Germans are marching northward at a great speed, chanting as they march, "Back, back to Germany."

The Associated Press correspondent declares the Allies have taken immense war supplies from the Germans, in addition to the vast depots the fleeing foe has destroyed. At one depot in Fere-en-Tardenois, $5,000,000 worth of munitions fell into the hands of the Allies. Many tanks have been captured by the Americans.

AMERICANS CAPTURE FISMES; PERSHING'S MEN HOLD 8,400 PRISONERS AND 133 FOE GUNS

"Full Fruits of Victory Reaped—Enemy Incapable of Stemming Onslaught," General Says.

[AMERICAN REPORT]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Gen. Pershing's communique last night says:

"Our troops have taken Fismes by assault and hold the south bank of the Vesle in this section."

Gen. Pershing's communique earlier in the day, received by the War Department, says:

"The full fruits of victory in the counter offensive, begun so gloriously by Franco-American troops on July 18, were reaped to-day when the enemy, who met his second great defeat on the Marne, was driven in confusion beyond the line of the Vesle."

"The enemy, in spite of suffering the severest losses, has proved incapable of stemming the onslaught of our troops fighting for liberty side by side with French, British and Italian veterans. In the course of the operations, 8,400 prisoners and 133 guns have been captured by our men alone."

GERMANS STIFFEN RESISTANCE AS FRENCH CROSS VESLE RIVER

Quiet on the Rest of the Battle Front, Says the Paris War Office.

[FRENCH REPORT]

PARIS, Aug. 5.—Following is the text of to-day's War Office statement:

"There is nothing of importance to report from the battle front. Small French detachments which crossed the Vesle are meeting with German resistance everywhere."

OFFICIAL BRITISH REPORT.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—A successful raid near Arras and German artillery activity in Flanders were reported by Field Marshal Haig to-day. The statement says:

"We captured a few prisoners last night at Neuville-Vitasse, southeast of Arras. There was enemy artillery firing along the La Bassée Canal, at Bethune and at different points between Hazebrouck and Ypres."

BERLIN ADMITS PICARDY FLIGHT; IS MUM ABOUT MARNE RETREAT

Boast Their Retirement From Albert Sector Was Without Interference by the British.

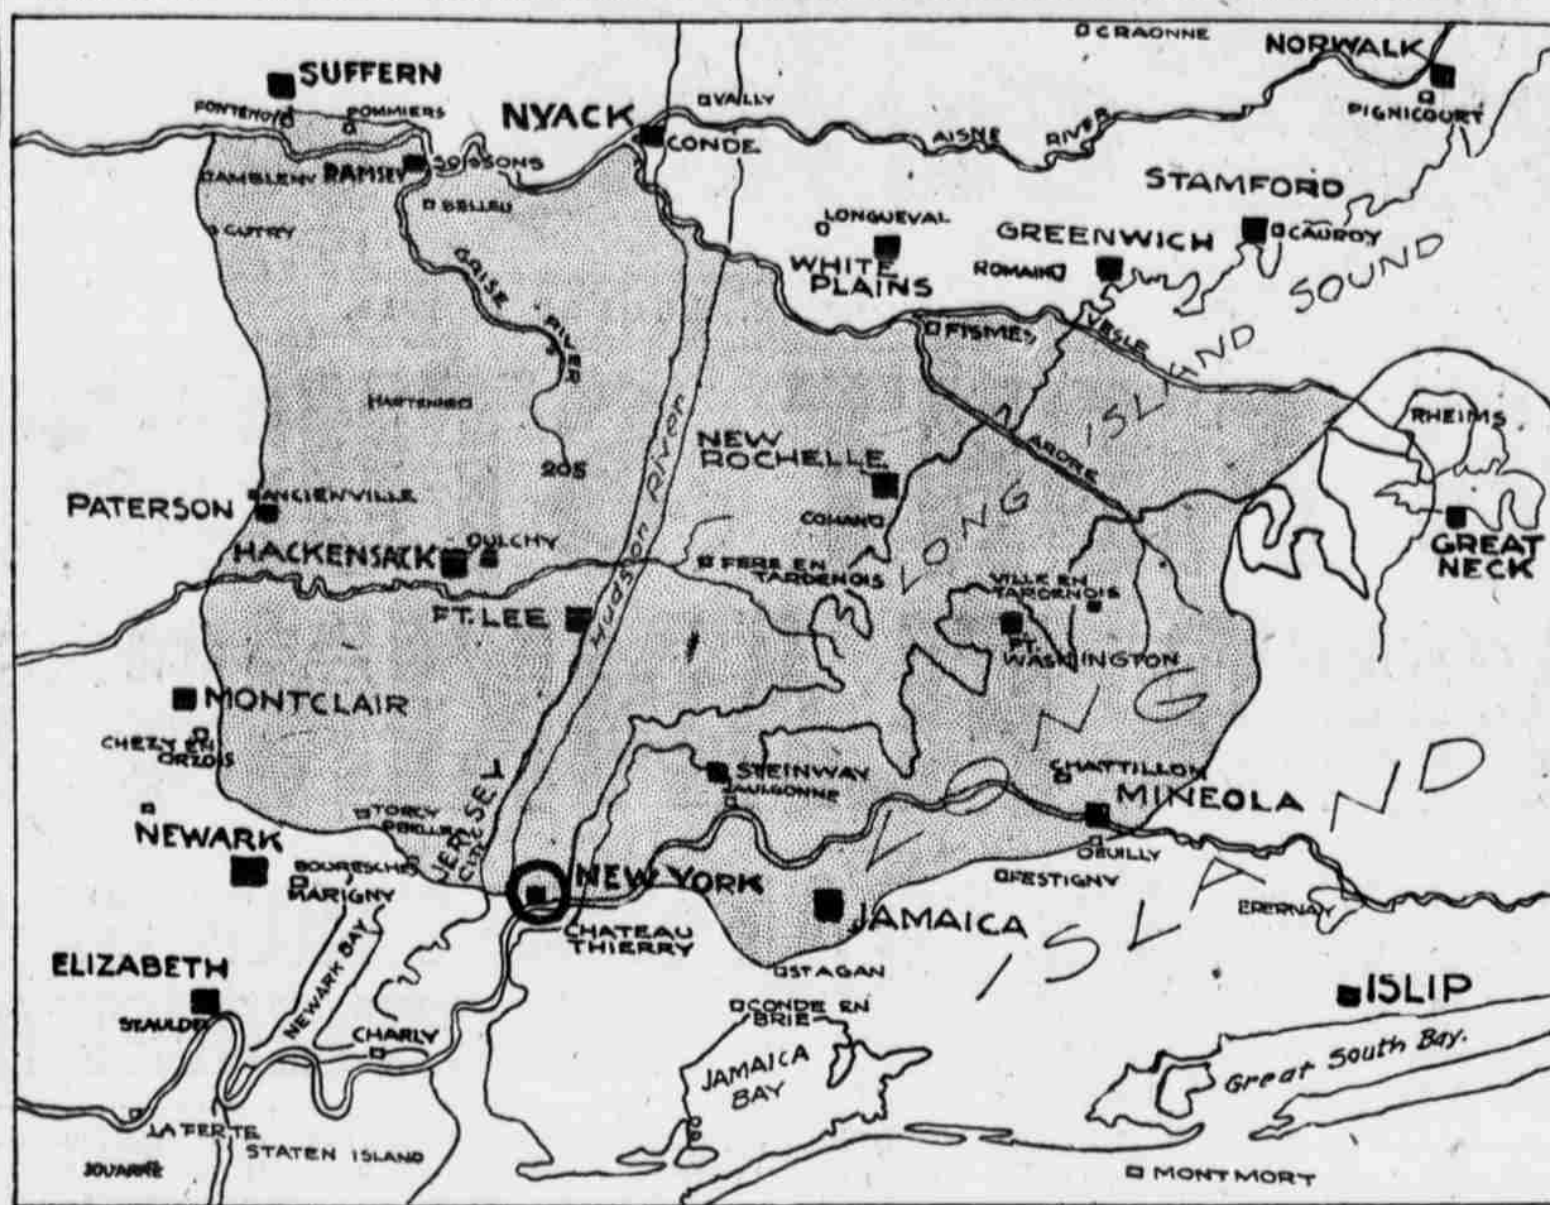

[GERMAN REPORT]

BERLIN, Aug. 5.—Yesterday's official statement says: During the night there was reviving artillery activity, which increased to great intensity at times south of Ypres and on both sides of the Somme.

On both sides of Albert we withdrew, without enemy interference, our posts on the west of the Ancre to the eastern bank of the river. In successful forefield engagements south of the Luce Brook and southwest of Montdidier we captured prisoners.

There have been no fighting operations on the Aisne north and east of Soissons. On the Vesle we are in fighting contact with the enemy.

BACK FROM MARNE, TELLS HOW TEUTONS SHELLED HOSPITAL

Bombs on Jouy Killed 3 and Injured 19 Wounded Inmates.

AN ATLANTIC PORT, Aug. 5.—A French steamer arrived here this morning from a European port with 332 passengers, among them being Red Cross men and women, soldiers and aviators direct from fighting along the Marne.

Capt. L. W. Harris of San Francisco is returning home after a year's work with the Red Cross, on a short leave of absence. Capt. Harris was stationed at the Jouy Hospital, located in a chateau one and a half miles from the town, which is on the Marne, when the hospital was demolished by three bombs from a German aviator. Three orderlies were killed outright and nineteen American soldiers who were convalescing were injured.

"There was no mistaking the object of the Germans' aim," said the Captain. "Two Red Cross flags, each 100 feet in length, were always flying in front of and behind the chateau, and at night the place was well lighted. Photographs of the hospital had been taken by American aviators from an altitude of 5,000 feet. Three bombs were dropped right on top of the hospital, but only two of them exploded. The attack occurred at 11 o'clock on the night of July 15."

"Too much praise cannot be accorded the women nurses of the Red Cross," continued Capt. Harris. "They were in the thickest of the fighting in the front trenches, caring for and carrying back the wounded. They thought more of their hair falling away than they did of German shells. Col. J. H. Perkins, formerly of the National Bank in New York, is doing great work over there with his unit."

You have no idea over here how many German prisoners the Americans have captured. They were dazed when brought in at night of American troops. One German Captain told me that before the drive they had been informed, and he believed implicitly, that there were no American troops in France."

"Talking with a wounded marine in the hospital, I said to him: 'I'll bet those Germans gave you hell.' He looked up at me very seriously and answered: 'I ain't no bookkeeper, but if they didn't owe us hell, I'll eat the ledger.'"

Mrs. James H. Snowden of No. 420 Park Avenue, New York, was at La Oanne Hospital in Belgium for a year and a half. In May, she said, the hospital was shelled and forty-seven Belgian women, acting as nurses, were killed. On May 1 she was just arising at 5:30 o'clock in the morning when a shell crashed into her chateau and rolled under the bed she had just left.

"I ran," said Mrs. Snowden, "but fortunately the shell was a dud, or I wouldn't have run very far and very

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY ON THE AISNE-MARNE FRONT, Aug. 5 (Associated Press).—An indication of the stern chase the Germans forced upon the Allies was contained in a message which came over the field wires to headquarters from a commander leading an American unit. "My men must rest," he said. "Must rest!" exclaimed headquarters.

"Yes," was the answer. "Our men are absolutely tired out running to keep up with the Germans."

likely wouldn't be on my way home to-day."

Miss Mary Stewart Claflin, a niece of the late H. B. Claflin of New York, was perhaps the only disappointed passenger on the steamer. She was in a Paris hospital for three months, and then they learned she was only seventeen years old and sent her home. Miss Claflin declared that it was a shame.

Alexander Calligari, who has been on a special mission for the Government in Paris for two years, said that up to July 23 the Americans alone had taken 45,000 prisoners, and 700 guns, mostly of the 155 and 75 type.

Yagoro Miura, Japanese Ambassador to Switzerland for two years, is returning to Japan by way of San Francisco. He says that Germany has only about 100 Japanese prisoners, most of whom were taken by the sea raider Wolf and that they are receiving the same treatment as other prisoners, none of which is too good. Seventy per cent of Switzerland, he said, is pro-German.

GERMAN SIGN BOARDS NOW POINT WRONG WAY

Indicate What Was the German Front, but in the Old Marne Pocket.

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, Aug. 5 (United Press).—Among many German signboards found on the battlefield was one reading "Von der Front."

It pointed in the direction where the front was—but which is the opposite direction from the present front.
